Global Food Safety Conference 2010

The results of a survey of 700 food industry executives worldwide will be revealed at the Consumer Goods Forum conference 'Global Food Safety 2010' to be held 3-5 February, in Washington DC. The survey seeks to identify and understand issues likely to influence the future of food safety by the year 2020. You are invited to register for a live webinar where a panel of experts including NSF-CMI director David Edwards will discuss the initial results. Journalists are invited to register to attend a live webinar of the roundtable by visiting: <https://www1.gotomeeting.com/register/115442441>
